One of the world's most highly anticipated annual art fairs, The Photography Show presented by AIPAD, now in its 42nd edition, is the longest running and foremost exhibition dedicated to the AIPAD is working closely with gallerists, curators, institutions, artists, and collectors to create a comprehensive program for the Show, including the presentation of the annual AIPAD Award and the acclaimed AIPAD Talks program with prominent speakers.

“We are proud to announce the exhibitor list for 2023, a dynamic group of galleries that will showcase the true breadth of photography,” said Lydia Melamed Johnson, Director of AIPAD. “The Photography Show will lead off the New York Fair schedule with an immersive experience of images and programming to further the conversation of the medium’s role in art and culture.”
